guest portraits

My most popular live painting option!

Every package includes 4x6" watercolor portraits.

During cocktail hour, 2-3 artists work on taking pictures of your guests that are used for reference photos for paintings. Guests leave and enjoy the night while waiting to return for their painting. We keep painting until an hour before the end of your night, prioritizing adults and only painting each guest 1 time. Packages are suggested based on guest counts in order to paint the most guests possible! Adds on like polaroids and calligraphy are available for an extra special touch.

live couple painting

My most intimate and romantic live art option, a painting of you two during any part of your day.

You choose what you want painted: first look, private vows, a couple portrait, ceremony first kiss, first dance, cake cutting, etc. All paintings are in a watercolor style, prioritizing capturing the whole scene around you and features that cannot be captured in a photo. Paintings take minimally 3 hours on site, starting an hour and a half before the time of the event and then remaining until the painting is finished. Have it framed on site or not, with an option for the painting to be completed in the studio and not at your wedding day.

Both the live couple painting and guest portraits can be booked at the same time, I would hire artists to paint the guests as I focus on you! All my artists are trained in the same style and completely trusted to give your guests the best experience.

A close-up photograph of a white watercolor palette with several wells containing various colors of paint, including shades of blue, green, yellow, and brown. The palette is resting on a surface with a marbled pattern. The background is softly blurred, showing hints of green foliage and a blue object.

a love letter to all my couples, you keep my dream alive. being an full time artist is something I never thought was possible until I stepped into the wedding world. this way of making art is fun and exciting, it's interactive and has intention, and it connects me with the world in a way that making art hasn't before. this passion of mine is something I pour my whole life into and being at your wedding day means the world to me. your guests, how we chat with them, the reactions they have to their paintings, and the "I've never seen this before!" are all small parts of why these days are my favorite. you're creating memories and moments for your guest to remember the day you spent so much time planning for. I hope to be a small part of the best day of your lives, to help create memories that last forever.

all love,
my
